Marin Transit Board of Directors

To Whom it may concern,

We, the neighbors of 24, 28, and 32 Elena Circle, along with other residents in the surrounding area, are writing to formally request that Marin Transit relocate the Las Gallinas/Nova Albion bus turnaround—or at the very least, move the location where drivers regularly take their breaks—to a more suitable commercial or non-residential location.

We have been in contact with Robert Betts regarding the ongoing issues of noise and air pollution, and while we understand the vital role public transit plays in our community, we also believe our concerns as residents have been overlooked.

At nearly all hours of the day, buses are idling or parked directly behind our homes. The resulting engine noise and diesel fumes have a significant impact on our quality of life, affecting our ability to enjoy our yards and open our windows. Beyond the environmental disruption, the presence of multiple buses frequently creates traffic congestion—particularly for drivers attempting to turn right from Las Gallinas onto Nova Albion, where buses often block the entire turning lane.

It's also worth noting that this area was not zoned or designed to function as a transit layover point, and its use as such raises safety and traffic flow concerns.

We respectfully request that Marin Transit reevaluate the current setup and consider relocating this turnaround to a more appropriate site that does not interfere with the peace and livability of a residential neighborhood.

Thank you for your attention to this matter. We are hopeful for a thoughtful and community-oriented solution.

Sincerely,
Ron Dileo
On behalf of the residents of Elena Circle and surrounding streets
